Words from the Arts & Sciences Champion

Baroness Anastasia Alexandrovna Andreeva (OL) Principality of Tir Righ A&S Champion

Greetings unto Tir Righ. Since the last installment, I went and entered the Barony of Aquaterra's A&S Championship. As a rule I don't believe in being Champion of more than one place at any given time, but the chance to be involved in the evolution of their A&S competition was too much temptation, I wanted to be a part of it. So Now I am also Champion of Aquaterra. Never fear, I shall never neglect the Principality that graced me with their A&S hopes!

Let's Break Down the Competition Thing: Chapter #2

So, you have returned for Chapter 2!! Ok, number three on the score sheet: Oral presentation of supporting materials. This is the verbal presentation you give in addition to the written documentation. If you have done your job well, the judges should have few to no questions when you're done. That is the goal.

So, the first question A in this section is "Was the entry presented in a clear and organized manner"?

If you enjoy speaking in front of an audience or have theater experience this is easy. But if you don't I suggest index cards. Yes, just like high school. But it worked right? Put them in order of the points you want to make and this is very important. Don't let the judges deter you from your organization. Don't let them get you off your order, be nice, but let them know that you will get to their questions in a bit but you need to make your points so you stay on track.

Question B is "Was a depth of knowledge displayed during the presentation?"

This is where the judges can nail you for not really knowing your subject. It is very important that you not only understand the time period and culture you have made the object from, but what were the countries around you doing at the same time. Judges love compare and contrast.

Question C. "How well was the entrant able to field questions"?

This is very important. Never make the mistake of thinking you can buffalo your judges. The answer ALWAYS is, if you don't know, say so. Judges will have a lot more respect for you if you just admit that your research hasn't taken you that far, as opposed to trying to convince them you know through evasive tap dancing. Never underestimate your judges; you will be surprised how much they know. Just try to answer the question honestly, if you don't know, the judges will often be able to tell you or tell you where to find the answer. Look at it as a chance to improve your knowledge.

The bottom line is, you need to own the presentation, don't let anyone else try to direct the play. If they digress and get you off, stop the dialogue and tell them you will get back to their questions, but you need to finish your presentation first. Judges get excited and enthusiastic and it is easy to overwhelm a contestant by that same enthusiasm. You need to be in control of the presentation at all times.

If you are shy and worried, practice. Seriously, get your friends to sit and listen to your presentation.

Next month we will discuss the dreaded subject of Documentation!!

Until next month, have a productive and satisfying time!

Regards,

Baroness Anastasia Alexandrovna Andreeva (OL)

Opportunities For You to Serve the Principality

Here are several notices of Tir Righ Officers' terms coming to an end.

Following are the current Principality Laws (revised November AS XLIII) about Officers' rights and duties

Principality Chatelaine

The position of Principality Chatelaine will be available soon. Should you wish to apply for this position please send your applications to THL Eric de Dragonslaire (Eric Bosley) at bosley@wavecable.com or by mail to 3260 Westminster Dr. S.E., Port Orchard, WA, USA, 98366

Could you also send a copy to Mistress Lenora di Calizzan (Tami Hayes) #21-2771 Spencer Rd., Victoria B.C., Canada, V9B 4E2 or at lenora.is@shaw.ca

Your application should include your modern name, your SCA title and name, your branch affiliation, membership number and expiry date. A listing of your applicable experiences or related jobs would be helpful.

HL Vivien of Shaftesbury
 Tir Righ Chatelaine chatelaine@tirrigh.org

Principality Archery Marshal

After 2.5 years in the position of Tir Righ's Archery Marshal the time has come to step aside for the next person. Ideally the new candidate can step up at the May Coronet Tournament in 5 months. Please forward your CV to myself at archery@tirrigh.org or my Principality Superior, the Tir Righ Marshal, Sir Saif al Sirhan at marshal@tirrigh.org. The ideal candidate for this position is an active Marshall in both Target and Combat Archery, preferably senior in both as well as knowledgeable on Thrown Weapons. They will have excellent interpersonal skills and be able to handle delicate on and off field discussions with a calm demeanour. This position requires the filing of reports to their Principality and Kingdom Superior in a timely fashion - they should have knowledge of the Tir Righ Reporting deadlines.

Opportunities For You to Serve the Principality

Chronicler

At midsummer this coming year, it will be time for me to step down as Tir Righ's Chronicler. The Principality will need someone (or someones) to keep in touch with the local Chroniclers. You will then report four times per year to the Kingdom Chronicler.

Another task is the editing of this publication you're reading, the Northern Sentinel. There are no subscriptions to keep track of, and no stamps to lick. The whole thing goes onto the Tir Righ website and then you're done till next time!

And speaking of the Tir Righ website, you will have the best deputies ever in Thorbjorn and Halima, the dynamic web duo who deal with the website and all its concerns, and are a totally self-managing unit.

How can you pass up this fantastic opportunity? Well, you can't of course! Please e-mail me or get in touch at an event or by phone to chat.

Your servant,
Alienor Sanz-Argent (mka Margaret Sutherland)
chronicler@tirrigh.org phone: (604) 568-3391

Principality Chief Scribe

My time as Tir Righ's Chief Scribe ends at next Investiture, and thus I am seeking the one who would be my successor. I would like to have a successor appointed by May Coronet so that I can work with them through the process of assisting the new Tanist & ban-Tanist and their Scribe.

The position of Chief Scribe is a Greater Office. It is primarily an administrative position. You do not have to actually create charters and scrolls unless you wish to do so; it is not a requirement of the office. Please see Article V in the laws of Tir Righ (located in the Library on the Tir Righ website and on the page following) for the duties of the officers.

Main duties include:

Supporting the Coronet Scribe

(the person on the Prince & Princess' retinue who is in charge of getting charters and scrolls prepared for Their reign)

Maintaining files of charters from previous reigns

Supplying replacement charters and scrolls if needed for previous reigns

Facilitating scribal education (you don't have to teach yourself)

Providing information to the Prince & Princess and the Tanist & ban-Tanist of Tir Righ as needed

Quarterly reports as well as reports for Curia.

For more information or to express interest, contact me at scribe@tirrigh.org.

In service,
Alicia le Wilfulle
Tir Righ Chief Scribe

Section 2 – Duties (All Officers)

Principality offices and job descriptions are structured after those of the Kingdom of An Tir, and duties are detailed in Corpora and Kingdom Law; what follows is particular to Tir Righ.

1. To execute the lawful commands of the Coronet and to abide by Corpora, SCA Financial Policy, Kingdom Law, Kingdom Financial Policy, Principality Law and Principality Financial Policy.
2. To receive reports from their branch subordinates and provide summary to their Kingdom Superior
3. To develop and maintain communications with their branch subordinates.
4. To have access to the Northern Sentinel in their residence for the length of their office, in addition to the membership requirements set forth in Kingdom Law and Corpora.
5. To advertise for replacements to their position at least five (5) months before their term ends. Decisions on final applicants will be made by the officer and the Coronet.
6. To have a contingency deputy acceptable to the Coronet to ensure an orderly transfer of the office should the officer be unable to continue. This deputy's name and contact information will be on file with the Seneschal and the Coronet. Name, phone number and email will be printed in the Northern Sentinel.

Section 3 – Rights and Duties (Greater Officers)

1. Greater Officers must attend the four Coronet Events.
2. Greater Officers must have a report for Curia. The Coronet may grant permission to be absent in extraordinary circumstances, at which the primary deputy must attend.
3. As Greater Officers must attend the four Coronet Events, no site fee shall be charged them at these events.

Section 4 – Reports

1. Officers shall give a written quarterly report, including activities specific to their office and the activities of the branch officers which report to them.
2. Officers shall report to the Coronet and their Kingdom superiors, Heirs when applicable and the Principality Seneschal. Lesser officers will also report to their Principality Superior.
3. Reports must be received by the Kingdom superiors as indicated in Section 5, below.
4. The Exchequer's report is as required by Corpora and Kingdom Law.

Section 5 – Reporting Periods

1. In keeping with Kingdom Law and unless specifically directed otherwise by a Kingdom Officer, the reporting quarters will be defined as follows: First quarter (January, February, March), Second Quarter (April, May, June), Third Quarter (July, August, September), Fourth Quarter (October, November, December).
2. With the exception of the Exchequer, Officers or their reporting deputies should receive reports from their branch subordinates by the fifteenth of the following months: January, April, July, and October.
3. With the exception of the Exchequer, Officers or their reporting deputies are to report to their Kingdom Superiors by the first of the following months: February, May, August, and November.
4. The Exchequer should receive reports from branch subordinates by the first of the following months: February, May, August, November. The Exchequer is to report to the Kingdom Chancellor of the Exchequer by the fifteenth of the following months: February, May, August, November.

Section 6 – Term of Office

1. Officers serve at the pleasure of the Coronet as long as their duties are carried out in a manner satisfactory to the Coronet and their Kingdom superior.
2. Officers shall serve a two (2) year term, and may apply for a one (1) year extension at the discretion of the Coronets.

Recognising Courtesy

Lady Elspeth Selwode of Wilton, Shire of Lionsdale (additional research by Fithel O'Connor)

Before we get started, let me clarify. This is not going to be some boring diatribe on what courtesy is. I'm talking about what one does after observing or experiencing an act of courtesy. We've all been on the receiving end – a helping hand carrying things to or from our dragon, child care without expectation of recompense, a gentle holding the door for us when we are loaded down with gear. But when it happens to you, what do you do? How does it make you feel? Does it make you think?

Do We Forget About Courtesy?

Periodically, and more so in recent months, I have been pondering precisely this matter. For my part, I try to remember to be courteous to others whenever possible, but I have moments when I get so wrapped up in what my children or I are doing that it slips my mind. I know I'm not the only one. We live in a modern world that seems to put less and less importance on courtesy. In the aftermath of the "Me" Generation and the every-man-for-himself mentality that has been cultivated in recent years, we are raising an entire generation for whom the common niceties are not at the forefront of their consciousness. When we attire ourselves in garb and step back into a more genteel time, do we also shed our modern sensibilities, trading them for a more thoughtful, considerate mindset?

What is Courtesy?

A friend did some research for me. He found many descriptions and examples and here are but a few: well-mannered behaviour, courtly elegance and politeness of manners; graceful politeness or consideration of others, nobleness, generosity, benevolence, goodness; a respectful or considerate act.

Do You Know It When You See It?

Okay, let's put the theory into practice. You see what you think is a courteous act, but you're unsure. Why not go up to the recipient of the courtesy and ask them? It harms none, takes virtually no time and allows the recipient to extol the virtues of their benefactor. Now, if someone is kind to you, do you see it as such and thank them? If so, are your thanks heartfelt or more of an automatic response? If not, why not? Why not take those few extra seconds to really think about what this person has done for you and show your appreciation.

An Attitude Of Gratitude

Our Society espouses the tenets of Honour, Chivalry and Courtesy. Just because courtesy is tacked onto the end should not lessen its importance. Since becoming a member of the SCA, I have found that more often than not, my SCA sensibilities have been creeping into my modern life, for the betterment of it. I am more mindful of the kindness of others and in turn, I am more kind. I find that courtesy is like chocolate – most people appreciate it, I like the way it makes me feel and I want more of it. I personally strive to be more aware of courtesy and to tangibly recognize it in others.

A Challenge

Gentle reader, you are on the hook, so to speak. Now that you have read this, you no longer have an excuse to disregard courtesy. Now, here's the rub: I challenge each and every one of you to go to your next event with a mind towards recognizing courtesy in others. Just once during an event, I charge you to go up to someone who has been courteous and thank them for it. It doesn't have to be someone who was kind to you. If you see it, publicly acknowledge it. Perhaps if we all do that, it will help to make this game we all play a kinder, gentler place to be. A place where people are thoughtful and validated for that thoughtfulness. That is how I choose to live. I will be looking for it. Will you?

Penguin Crusade

April 24-26, 2009

Shire of Cae Mor (Kitimat, BC)

The Penguin Crusade is once more upon this northern shire.

The frivolity will begin with an informal Tavern on the night of the 24th opening at 7pm. Registration can be completed at the tavern on the Friday evening. We ask everyone to be on their way by 1:00 am that coming morning, (directions and other information on the shire website).

Classes will run all day Saturday. The day will be capped off with a wondrous feast of many succulent dishes, with a Crusades theme.

Sunday will be a day of tournaments to decide the Heavy, Rapier and Archery Champions.

Site opens at 8am on April 25th and closes 3pm on April 26th. Site fee is $5 for registered members. Non member surcharge of $4 is in effect.

Feast fee is $15 with advance sales only. Cut off for feast tickets purchase is April 18th.

Lionsdale Champions Tourney

June 12-14

Shire of Lionsdale (Abbotsford & Chilliwack, BC)

The Shire of Lionsdale invites one and all to witness the making of our new Champions in Armoured Combat, Target Archery, and Combat Archery!

There will also be numerous other activities, such as a rapier tournament, an A&S contest, a roaming bardic challenge, Pied Piper activities, and a munchies potluck at Gate.

Please join us June 12th to 14th, 2009, in Yarrow BC (near Chilliwack). Site opens at 4 pm on Friday, and closes at 4 pm on Sunday.

Merchants are welcome, however, please contact autocrat no later than May 31st to advise of the space that you require. Merchant fee is by donation.

Regretfully, there will be no thrown weapons Champion tournament this year. Should anybody be interested in running any thrown weapons activities at this event, please contact the autocrat, who will arrange time and space. Please note that any participants must supply their own equipment.
